

VAFX 375 Rubric

Students are expected to follow the coding standards documented on the class notes website and described in class. Exercises are given with increasing levels of challenge.

Exercises are due at the start of class.

The rubric is as follows:

90-100 A	All requirements of the assignment are met. Program compiles, runs and performs as described. Solutions demonstrating exploration and understanding are also given bonus points. Shows understanding of the exercise lesson.
80-89 B	Some of the requirements of the assignment are met. Program compiles, runs and performs as described but not all requirements or coding standards are met. Still Shows understanding of the exercise lesson.
70-79 C	Some of the requirements of the assignment are met. Program compiles, but does not perform as described and meets some of the coding standards. Shows some understanding of the exercise lesson
60-69 D	Program compiles, but does not do what is expected. There are many coding standard issues not met. Does not show understanding of the exercise lesson.
50-59 F	Fails to compile or shows a lack of understanding of the exercise lesson.
